This appeal is not taken in good faith ☒

Explanation: _____

The Court of Appeals does not have jurisdiction to consider Plaintiff-Appellant Herships' appeal because it does not arise from a final order. See 28 U.S.C. § 1291. The appealed order is not appealable because the order fails to dispose of all claims as to all parties. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(b); Chacon v. Babcock, 640 F.2d 221 (9th Cir. 1981).
